

QUIET WORK BY THE OUTRIGGERS

The Outrigger club is getting ready for the summer season and work is being done to make the grounds what they ought to be. A general spring cleaning and renovation is taking place and the club quarters will be really properly run this season.

The dancing lanai has been built over. The floor has been improved and the roof lowered to give it more the appearance of a bungalow. Best of all the ladies annex is being fixed. Here is where the club will fill a long felt want. Many married men and men with sisters to whom the open air sport would be a grand thing, belong to the club and the chance to take the women folk out and show them the delight of canoing and surfing will be thoroughly appreciated.

The club has all the foundation for a typical and successful institution, as unique as it is useful and the awakened energy of the members is guaranteed that everybody who is interested in open air sports will make no mistake in giving the club their support. The club will make less of regattas and public events this season and confine itself to looking after the comfort of its members.
