

BOARD BURGLARS ARE AT IT AGAIN

There was the usual big crowd in the Waikiki surf yesterday afternoon and the board-stealing vandals were at it again, also as usual. The surfer who will not, or can not, afford a few dollars for a board of his own is still making use of other people's property, but he would do well to look out in future, for there is something liable to drop before very long.

The big surf was fine yesterday, but the malihini waves were not working very well and the surfers in front of the Seaside Hotel had a hard time finding anything big enough to carry them more than a few yards. The waves came in V's, the apex of which was the only place for a ride, and this coveted position was seized by about ten men at one time, so that there were as many cheerful mix-ups as anything else.

Most of the experts were out in the big surf. Chicago took old "Billy Rough Un" out there for the first time, and the seagoing surfboard was a great success. Nearly all the private canoes were also out, and there were at least a dozen jolly parties enjoying the exciting rides before the big breakers.

There is a possibility that the Outrigger Club may have new dressing-rooms for the men members. The women are very well fixed, and have a fine place for dressingrooms, the which can not be said by any stretch of the imagination for the male outriggerites.

The present dressingroom shed is the property of the Seaside Hotel, and there is talk of returning the property and levying an assessment on each member of the club with which to raise a fund for the erection of a proper dressingroom building.

Many of the members have stated their willingness to subscribe to such a fund and agree that it would be the finest thing for the club should this be done.

There was a Hawaiian quintet playing on the Seaside Hotel lanai, and a large crowd of people who enjoyed the music and the sunshine. There were many people in the Moana Hotel grounds, too, and the lawns and wharf were gay with pretty dresses and smiling faces.
