

OUTRIGGER CLUB CHOWDER TONIGHT

There will be a two-bit chowder at the Outrigger Club this evening at six o'clock and all members are requested to attend. This is the first of a series of get-together affairs and, especially tonight, will be the occasion of talking over club matters and deciding on the best to be done.

The plans for the new bathhouse are approved and have been turned over to a contractor. Yesterday afternoon the first work was done and the foundations were started for the new place.

The clubhouse will be fifty feet long by sixteen feet wide and will be fitted with sixty-four lockers, twelve private rooms and two shower baths. The old house will have the partitions knocked out and be turned into one place. This will be turned over to the entire use of the youngsters.
