

ds

enberg

HIRT
d at a t, and

il

Bld.

utation of being a very fine architect, and is endowed with a number of accomplishments. The brother and sister were favorites in the social world of Honolulu and their return will be most welcome to their old-time friends here.

★ ★ ★
Mr. and Mrs. Reid who are sojourning at the Moana Hotel are planning to spend a year in these beautiful islands. This prominent couple closed their home in Paris some years ago, and have been touring the United States leisurely. While at Coronado beach last winter, they received such glowing reports of Honolulu, that they decided to visit the Paradise of the Pacific. Mr. and Mrs. Reid have been the motif for much entertaining since their arrival.

★ ★ ★
Mrs. Arthur Marx entertained informally at a 5 o'clock tea Wednesday at her home on Bingham and Alexander streets.

★ ★ ★
Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Klamp are giving a week-end party to a number of their friends at their beautiful suburban home at Kahala, Oahu.

★ ★ ★
Mrs. Gibson and her daughter, Miss Gibson, are domiciled at the Moana Hotel. Miss Gibson is a petite blonde with large blue eyes and fair hair. This pretty girl is a warm personal friend of Miss Jesse Kennedy.

★ ★ ★
At her colonial home on the corner of Victoria and Kinau streets Mrs. Frank Halstead is entertaining at a bridge party in honor of her sister, Mrs. Christian Castendyk, of Hilo, Hawaii. The decoration will be green and red, and some handsome prizes have been chosen.

★ ★ ★
Miss Mae Damon will be among the luncheon hostesses for the coming week. This charming girl has invited a number of her friends for tiffin on Tuesday. Miss Damon is well versed in the art of entertaining and is sure to make a charming hostess on this occasion.

OUTRIGGER CLUB NOTES.

Owing to the fact that the 23rd is Sunday and that there are many Christian Endeavorers aboard the Cleveland, the regatta portion of the surfing sports will be held on Saturday, February 12, when the Cleveland returns to Honolulu with her westwardbound round-the-world cruisers.

The events for tomorrow will be confined almost entirely to surfboard-riding and surfboating, neither of which sports requires the exhausting manual labor of the regatta work.

The boys will, of course, compete for the Clark cups—two of them. They will go out on their boards, come in standing upon the tips of the big rollers. Some will even stand on their heads on the boards, and others will actually waltz on the tiny bits of plank. The judges on the Moana pier will award the surfboard cup to the most graceful and expert manipulator of his board. About thirty entries have been made.

In the canoe surfing contest the judges will consider grace of motion, directness in steering and distance traveled before the wave.

The boys for the surfboard contest will line up on the beach of the Outrigger grounds at 3 o'clock, and a few minutes later they will paddle out, starting in line. After a few waves have been caught, the judges will pick out the dozen best surfers. The canoe surfing will then take place, and after that is over the ten selected surfboarders will enter the final contest for the Clark cup. These cups, now on exhibition in the windows of E. O. Hall & Son, are the finest trophies of the kind ever sent to Honolulu, and are the gift of Frank C. Clark. The two larger cups will be held for the events to be pulled off when Frank Clark is here with his cruisers on February 12. Governor Frear, it is expected, will then present all the cups to the winners.

Sunday afternoon an old friend of the club will be on hand to prepare his famous fish chowder, which will be dished out hot to all who return from the aquatic contests.

As the Outrigger Club was first suggested by the malihini, that individual has not been lost-sight of. For his edification and delectation, on Sunday, poi-pounders are to be in evidence before the native grass houses. The Kanehameha Aquatic Club of Hawaiian sons will provide these, and the malihinis will see how the taro looks when it is first taken from the soil; how it is baked with porous stones, then boiled, pounded into poi, and eaten with one, two or three fingers. In fact, the Outrigger Club is trying to give the stranger the kind of entertainment he wishes.

Messrs. Ehlers & Co. have gotten out a handsome illustrated program of the day for the Outrigger Club, and this will be distributed among the 700 cruisers aboard the Cleveland. Mr. Herbert Clark, an elder brother of Frank C. Clark, is in charge of the present cruise. Both he and his brother are personal friends of the president of the Outrigger Club, who will see to it that they are properly entertained at Waikiki.

Additional Social on Pages 11 and 12

NORFOLK, Jan. 5.—The battleship Georgia ran aground in the Elizabeth river this afternoon and another notch was cut in her stick of recent mishaps.

The vessel was proceeding down the river from Norfolk Navy Yard, where the hole ripped in her outer hull by the propeller of the collier Vestal, three weeks ago, had just been patched up and injuries sustained in collision with the battleship Nebraska, a few days previous, repaired. Three disasters within a month have led her to be dubbed "the hoodoo of the navy."

The Georgia had been ordered to sea for tactical exercise today and was steaming out. At about six knots an hour she struck on the shoal between Lambert's Point and Craney Island Light.

The C Q D signal was flashed by wireless, and four tugs raced to her assistance from the Navy Yard. They found the big fighter stuck hard, but a half hour of pulling all together got the vessel again clear.

Established 1780

Walter Baker & Co.'s