

SPENDING THOUSAND FOR BIG CARNIVAL

The tickets are out for the Outrigger feast and carnival on the afternoon and evening of June 10. As Kamehameha Eve falls on a Friday and there will be no performance at the operahouse, the McRaes assisting the Outriggerites, there should be a large gathering. It is probable that a stage will be built at the Seaside Hotel and a continuous vaudeville put on for those who don't dance. At the Moana there will be dancing, and in the big forty by eighty foot lanai of the Outrigger Club the chowder will be served.

There will be canoe races and surfing events in the afternoon, a water carnival of illuminated canoes and search-light surfing in the evening. Hundreds of colored lights and lanterns will beautify the Outrigger grounds, which are being put in order by a large force of workmen. A thousand dollars is to be spent in improvements before the big carnival comes off.
