

OAHU LOSING FAMOUS BEACH

Dredging Depriving Waikiki of World-Famed Sandy
Slopes.

The sand beach in front of the Moana and Seaside hotels continues to dwindle away, exposing the coral, and deep inroads are being made into the banks which are so far unprotected by bulkheads. In front of the two hotels plank walls were erected to hold the sand which is the foundation under the lawns, from being swept into the sea. Gradually the sand before these walls is being carried away and on Saturday and Sunday the banks on the Moana Hotel side of the Outrigger lagoon began to cave in and some of the palms are threatened.

Those who have been following the
(Continued on Page Seven.)
