

SAILORS WILL PADDLE WITH OUTRIGGERS BOYS

Frank Speaight, the Dickens reader, who sailed for Australia Saturday left behind him a solid silver cup to be contested for by the Outrigger boys at their Fourth of July regatta. This cup and the Clark cups, all suitably engraved, will be on exhibition in Wichman's window on Fort street this week. The Speaight cup and two of the big Clark surfing trophies will be contested for at Waikiki next Monday afternoon. Charles Crane will be in charge of the racing crews and Lorrin Andrews will act as judge of the events with Colonel Soper, Wm. Cottrell and Robert Foster as assistants.

The Belgian boys will have a six-paddle crew in the first big event of the day, and the Chattanooga and Cleveland will be asked to send five paddlers each, the Outrigger Club will provide the steersmen. The seniors and juniors are taking much interest in the regatta and there will be at least three six-paddle events besides minor racing and the big surfing contest.

Charles Royal and Miss Elliott have organized their company and have begun rehearsals. A stage has been constructed in the big lanai of the Outrigger Club and comfortable seats will be put in for the occasion. The Royals and their big company will present on the evening of the Fourth a minstrel show, vaudeville stunts and a one-act play with the full strength of the cast.
