

OUTRIGGER CLUB ELECTS ALL OFFICERS

At the meeting of the Outrigger Club, which was held yesterday afternoon, the officers for the present year were elected, and the officials selected are the ones who take the deepest interest in the club. Alexander Hume Ford was the originator of the Outrigger Club, and it was due to his untiring work that the institution got going properly.

Every day children may be seen at the club and most of them took their first lessons in swimming at the beach, near the clubhouse. The club has done much to promote amateur aquatic sport, and has always tried to steer clear of the professional element that threatened once or twice in the past.

The officers elected yesterday are as follow:

President, Doremus Scudder; vice-president, A. M. Nowell; treasurer, Irwin Spalding; secretary, G. H. Tuttle; captain, L. D. Canfield; directors, J. P. Cooke, J. R. Galt, P. L. Weaver, E. M. Ehrhorn; house committee, G. H. Tuttle, A. C. O. Linnemann, R. Lyon.
