

The Outrigger Club will try and persuade the Kona crew to take part in the canoeing contests of Regatta Day. They don't mind being beaten by their old enemies, the Konas, but they hate to see the championship go to their upstart rivals, the Hui Nalus. They expect to provide the Kona men with a canoe and to look after their transportation.

The Outrigger Club will use the Wall canoe in their Regatta Day engagement.

Rah, rah, rah! The Ukulele Patrol have challenged the Myrtles to a six-paddle junior canoe race. Their defi has been accepted by the wearers of the red and the crews have been named as follows:

Ukulele Canoe Crew: Arthur R. Brown (stroke), Gus Ballentyne, Walter Cowles, Sydney Nicholson, G. H. Brown and Kenneth Reidford (steerer.)

Myrtle Canoe Crew: Roland Smith, William Rosa, Ernest Podmore, Shirley Bush, Kennethⁿ Smith, C. J. Sullivan, and Marston Campbell, sub.
