

LAST WEEK OF TRAINING

Myrtle Seniors Strong and Expect to Win Race—Puunene Good Sports.

The different crews which are to compete in the coming Regatta Day sports will put in their last licks of hard work this week, and then after Saturday the boys can sit down in one corner and think over how the other crew beat them.

Down at the harbor yesterday, although it was a day of rest, the crews did hard work and were out in full force.

The Puunene crew is getting along nicely and it should show up well on the day of the meet. Most of the members of the crew were out at the beach yesterday afternoon. The Maui crew is a good bunch of sports, and the boys feel sore over the rumor which went around that they wanted to enter the junior race.

The regatta this year will no doubt outclass all others, and the crowds that will be at the clubhouses and line the wharves will excel previous years. The Healanis' being stronger than ever makes the interest more keen, but the Myrtles are not worrying over being defeated.

The Healaní freshman crew is the best in the harbor and will win a great race Saturday. The freshman crew has not won a race for the past five years, and this year a good bunch of sports have gone in with a determination to win, and there is little chance of their losing. The Healaní members are well pleased over the showing this crew has made in practise, beating all other crews.

The Healaní freshmen are the following: Thompson, stroke. He is a good man at the position, and has a steady pull. Back of him is Bowen; then Nickle at No. 4, followed by Hedemann. Behind Hedemann at No. 2 is Gertz, and then young Grace is at the bow. This is a strong crew and should bring back the laurels for the Blue and White. The Healaní freshmen average 145 pounds.

The senior race will be a tight one, and it will be a battle from start to finish for the honors. The Myrtles have a strong crew and are confident of repeating their performance of last year.

The Outrigger crew, which will participate in the six-paddle canoe race, is finishing up its strenuous work out at the beach, while the Hui Nalus are also busy with their crews. This event will be a hotly-contested one, as both clubs are close rivals now.
