

There is a good deal of interest shown in the six paddle canoe race in which the Hui Nalu team will have a part.

I talked to an oarsman last night and was assured that Rusty Brown and crew from the Outrigger's will win. Tonight I am told the Hui Nalu will win. It does not do to bet on this. Hawaiians lead beautifully but let them get a length behind and it is all off with the kanakas. The haoles, on the contrary, go in and pull the wood off the paddles in an effort to land any prize.
