

MARSTON CAMPBELL JR. HAS CHARGE OF RACES

Final preparations for the big entertainment, chowder and dance tomorrow at the Outrigger Club are being made today. The electricians are on the grounds wiring the entire property and hanging the colored lights from the sea to the driveway. The ladies are at work decorating the big dancing pavilion and preparing for the chowder which will be served hot tomorrow afternoon from five to eight.

J. H. Magoon will send a motion picture machine and a man to operate it so that every hour the Pathe Frere motion pictures taken at the outrigger grounds and never before exhibited will be seen.

The regatta has been turned over to Marston Campbell, Jr., and this youngster and his confreres have done wonders in the way of getting the canoes ready. Martson has saved the situation and there will be some real races among the youngsters, for their little captain has made up a complete list of events which he will see are pulled off. Berger and his band will be on the grounds during the regatta and chowder to lend music and festivity.

A thousand or more tickets have already been sold for the regatta, chowder, dance and entertainment, but friends who wish to grace the occasion will be accommodated. The tickets which include everything may be had at the public service rooms for a dollar.
