

OUTRIGGER CLUB PLANS COMPLETE

At noon today everything was ready for the big affair at the Outrigger Club except the lights. The workmen were expected on the grounds if they could get away from the Kalihi camp, and if not the Outrigger affair will be a moonlight one.

There is enough electric juice on the grounds for the dance and the chowder, but not for the spectacular colored lighting and the motion pictures. The entire outfit for this was yesterday commissariat for the mosquito work, but it is hoped that there will be time and material for a big showing beside the moonlight.

At 2 the youngsters start their canoe races, and later Berger's band will arrive there. At dusk the chowder will be served and at dark the big dance will be on. The large lanai will be enchantingly illuminated, and as many lights will be distributed under the trees as two gangs of men can get up in six hours of hard work.
