

MILLER WILL ACCOMPANY SWIMMERS

Duke Kahanamoku, Jr., and Vincent Genoves will leave for the mainland by the S. S. Honolulan sailing tonight.

They will be accompanied by Lew G. Henderson and "Dude" Miller.

It was decided at the last moment to send Miller along. He knows the boys intimately and can talk Hawaiian, a fact which should be of great help to the expedition as far as Kahanamoku is concerned.

Miller is president of the Hui Nalu, under whose auspices the two local boys are being sent to the mainland.

Entries were cabled last night by John Soper as follows:

Kahanamoku—50, 100 and 220 yards.

Genoves—500 yards and 800 yards should there be a race at the latter distance.

Henderson and Miller will have their expenses paid, but will receive no remuneration in the way of salary.

The following subscriptions to the expense fund were received yesterday:

Morris Rosenbledt, $10; Good Friend, $20; Woman's Auxiliary of the Outrigger Club, $25.

While there has been some rather pointed discussion as to whom should accompany the swimmers to the mainland and some little criticism, it should be remembered that the boys are being sent away by public subscription and that they are going under the auspices of the HUI NALU, to whom the fund will be turned over, and NOT under the auspices of any local promotion body.
