

ger Club, Bishop Estate and Moana Hotel management, and endeavor to have some system as to when the lagoon waters are to be let out, and particularly to prevent it being done just when steamers full of tourists are expected or are in port.

The old proposition of diverting the stream through a new canal to the beach just on the town side of Kapiolani Park will be renewed with the territorial department of public works and with the county supervisors. With the stream and lagoon waters diverted from the hotel part of the beach and sand would again build up along the frontages and be, in reality, one of the best bathing places in the world.
