

Boat Clubs to Hold Regatta on July 4

Big Feature Planned for Pearl Harbor—Special Train Will Be Chartered for Day—Myrtle, Healan and Honolulu Clubs Will Be Represented in Barge and Pair Oared Events—Myrtles to Entertain on March 18 at the Outrigger Club

Members of the Hawaiian Rowing Association have announced that a big regatta will be held on July 4, at Pearl Harbor. At a meeting of the association yesterday afternoon the preliminary plans were arranged for the event.

It has been announced by the committee that there will be barge and pair-oared races and other aquatic features. Three clubs will participate in the various events, the Myrtles, Healan and Honolulu Yacht Club all having signified their intention of sending in an entry list.

The committee has arranged with the O. R. & L. Company to stage the events on their property, and it is expected that a large number of special races will be scheduled before the completion of the final program. The three boat clubs have a big following in the city, and a record crowd is expected.

Will Charter Special Train.

Featuring a special train to Pearl Harbor and return, with many social features, including dancing in the pavilion, the committee feel that a banner crowd will gather at the regatta for a day's racing with an opportunity to enjoy a real outing. Arrangements will be made for those who wish to carry a lunch, and with the members and friends of the three clubs joining together, an ideal program for the day is certain.

At the annual meeting on April 21, the committee will plan the program in its entirety and make arrangements for new features that may be suggested in the meantime. According to the present plan there will be at least two barge races and two pair-oared events. The Honolulu Yacht Club has recently completed the repairs on the barge which was smashed at the last regatta, and they will be ready to compete in the various events on Independence Day.

New Club House on April 1.

There has been unusual activity on the part of the members of the three boat clubs in the past month. On the first of April the new club house of the Honolulu will be completed at Pearl Harbor and the members are taking an added interest in the activities. The showing made by the crews last year, considering the disadvantages, was pleasing, and their spirit has helped to boost the rowing sport in this vicinity.

To the lovers of the terpsichorean art the members of the Myrtle Club will bow on March 18 when they give their annual ball at the Outrigger Club. The committee in charge of arrangements has been working on the plans for an ideal evening, and to all who have been guests of the club this announcement means that a most enjoyable evening will be spent.

The members and friends who were present at the Healan show are still talking of the most enjoyable evening spent on Wednesday evening. The recent show was the right step in social and athletic activity.

Good Sportsmanship.

One noticeable feature of the rowing and swimming sport that has been helpful in raising the standard of sport is the friendly feeling that prevails among the members of the three clubs. They have fought their battles on the water, and the rivalry there could not have been improved upon, but once the winner was declared the loser has always showed thorough sportsmanship by being a "good loser." Then they plan for the next year and make an effort to win back the laurels. As a speaker said at a meeting the other evening the three boat clubs had worked at all times for the promotion of good clean sport, and the devotees of athletics, recognizing this fact, are due to help in making the big regatta on July 4 a huge success.

NO BIG SCORES MADE IN MATCH WITH VALLEJOS

The Honolulu Y. M. C. A. bowling team rolled below its usual form in the California State League last night. Fortunately the local team was up against the tail-enders, Vallejo, and will doubtless win two games and total pinfall. Even the low middle game may be good enough to win and thereby give Honolulu a clean sweep of the match.

Results from Vallejo are expected this evening. Also news from the U. S. naval training station team, which bowled Sacramento last evening. The fight for first place between Honolulu and the U. S. N. T. S. is a warm one and was probably decided last night.

O. P. Soares retained his lead among the local bowlers of the coast league team when he averaged 182 last evening. This gives Soares an average of 182.33 for the season. All the other first team men slumped in their averages in the closing match. Reed
