

OUTRIGGER CLUB WILL ENTER ALL SWIMMING EVENTS

Members of the Honolulu Outrigger Canoe Club will be represented in the next A. A. U. swimming meet, which will be held in September. The beach club has decided that inasmuch as the organization was formed for aquatics they should be represented in the swimming and diving events, and have elected "Dad" Center as captain of the team.

At a recent meeting it was announced that efforts will be made to secure Clair Tait as instructor in swimming and diving, and should the former Oregonian be secured the members of the club will go ahead with plans for participation in the coming meet.

Clair Tait is one of the best known instructors in swimming and diving in Hawaii, and was conceded to be the leading diving authority in the Pacific Northwest. Tait has had good success in developing youngsters, and if he is selected as instructor will surely turn out some good swimmers in the very near future. Jack Hjorth, the young diver who captured second honors in the last meet, was one of Tait's pupils.

The entrance of the Outrigger Club into aquatic circles will be welcomed by the other clubs, and with the Hui Nalus, Healanis, Palamas and Outrigger clubs entering teams there should be some strong competition. The club members will have an excellent opportunity to train for the various events at the beach.
