It is hoped the appropriation for the diversion of the stream flowing over Waikiki beach near the Outrigger Club will pass at this session. Very likely a plan will be worked out which will not only divert this stream but will take care of the flood waters which now damage much of the Waikiki-Beach Walk district at every big rainstorm. Appropriation of territorial funds to improve such a big tourist asset as Waikiki Beach is entirely justified and there is plenty of reason for a project to take care of this emergency, even though it should run considerably higher than the estimate for diversion of the stream alone.
