
OPPOSITION TICKET

FOR OUTRIGGER CLUB

Waikiki Organization Subject of Much Inside Politics

That the election of the officers of the Outrigger Canoe Club will be a warmly contested one there is every certainty, since an opposition ticket has appeared in the field and is said to be gaining considerable support.

The nominating committee of the club recently nominated two names for each office to be filled, and from this list a ticket was made up, which was quite proper, it is claimed.

The opposition ticket, which has now been sprung, is a radical one, it is said. While containing the names of some of the members regularly nominated, there are names on it of members not named by the nominating committee.

The new ticket has come as an unpleasant surprise for those who believed everything was going along nicely, and some of the members whose names have appeared on this ticket have said that they had no knowledge nor were they asked to allow the use of their names. A letter signed by a number of these has been posted at the club and repudiates the opposition ticket in no uncertain manner.
