

HUI NALUS WOULD BUILD CLUBHOUSE NEAR OUTRIGGER

The Hui Nalu Club will endeavor to build a club house. The site would be on the Diamond Head side of the Outrigger Club. Negotiations have been undertaken with the Territorial Hotel Company, owner of the Moana Hotel, looking toward a lease, but the lease would be contingent on permission being granted by the Bishop Estate, owner of the land, to release to the Hui Nalus. If the house is built it will bridge the stream that empties between the Moana and Outrigger. Most of the land other than the stream would be on the town side of the stream. The cost of the building would be $4000 or $5000, it is estimated. The club now has a building fund of $1100.
