

Claire Galligan Surprised Dorothy Burns Most By Taking Two-Twenty

By RUTH STACKER

Frances L. Cowells said something when she remarked that the women's 220 would be a race worth seeing and that some one was liable to make a mark to her credit. The event was well worth seeing and one of the best on the program. Claire Galligan made the fur, I mean water fly when she started out at about a hundred-yard pace and surprised most all of the spectators excepting those who had the "inside dope" in keeping the same pace through the distance. Dode Burns, however, made a beautiful swim, finishing less than two feet behind the Eastern girl.

Dode Burns seemed to go dead at the first turn and it was then that she lost most of her chance for the finish, dropping behind several yards. She opened their eyes at her second turn in sprinting and making up a distance of almost two yards.

CREDIT GIVEN ALL AROUND

Miss Burns yesterday morning gave all the credit of winning to Miss Galligan, saying that she, Miss Galligan, is an excellent swimmer and a good sport. Miss Galligan said that Dode Burns was a good loser and that she would rather be a good loser than a poor winner.

Frances Cowells said she was glad that it was only a box of candy that she lost over the event. Much credit should be given Josephine Hopkins for the splendid race she put up. In this race the little Outrigger entry clipped twenty-five seconds off her practise time. She is showing good form and it is predicted that if she continues in the good work she will give any one of the visitors a good race in February.
