

WANTED TO RESIGN FROM OUTRIGGER; IS MADE LIFE MEMBER

Alexander Hume Ford wanted to resign from the Outrigger club some time ago. He wrote a letter to the club officials stating that his position in the club had been considered such that he thought it best he give up his membership.

But Alexander Hume Ford is now a life member of the Outrigger club. The directors read his letter, disagreed absolutely with the reasons for his actions, and decided that Mr. Ford, as one of the original organizers of the club, should be tied to the organization so he could not break away. So they made him a member for life.
