

SAN FRANCISCO NUPTIALS OF INTEREST HERE.

In the wedding of Miss Elnim McNear and Mr. Elsey Swift Train in San Francisco a few days ago, two principals well-known here were united in marriage. Of the ceremony, the San Francisco Chronicle said:

"One of the most charming girls of the younger smart set added her name to those of the ranks of the matrons a week ago last evening, when Miss Elnim McNear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McNear, became the bride of Elsey Swift Train.

"The wedding, which was solemnized at the pretty little church of St. Mary the Virgin, was one of the most socially important events of the year, the bride's family having taken a most prominent part for many years in leading social affairs both here and in Oakland, where she formerly resided. The color scheme of the decorations was singularly effective in both the church and the McNear home on Jackson street, where a reception was held following the services at the church.

"Massive urns laden with exquisite pink lilies were arranged in the chancel against a background of rich greenery, which brought out most strikingly the lovely tones in the flowers. Masses of evergreens and fernery were banked in the chancel, with here and there an effective arrangement of Belgian trees, leading a warm, colorful atmosphere to the occasion. The dominating color of pink was seen again in the great clusters of hydrangeas, which were combined with ferns in a most charmingly graceful fashion. The altar was hung with garlands of greens, and the window boxes were artistically adorned with juniper and growing plants, with an occasional touch of pink blooms to repeat the chosen color scheme. The altar was aglow with lights from the massive candelabra placed upon it.

"Miss McNear, who was given in marriage by her father, made an exceptionally lovely picture in her bridal robes, her slender grace being singularly adapted to that mode of attire. The gown was fashioned on extremely simple and straight lines, most becoming to the wearer, being made of heavy white brocade, beautifully woven with silver and gold and elaborated with dainty touches of tulle. It was finished with a short train of the brocade. Over the charming costume fell the graceful tulle bridal veil, forming a second long train, and giving a finishing touch to the bride's attire. The veil was bordered with orange blossoms, the same fragrant blossoms forming a chaplet for the bride's head. Her bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley and white butterfly orchids.

"The bride is a sister of Mrs. George Nickel, the former Miss Ernestine McNear, who is one of the most popular of the younger matrons. She is a niece of Mrs. Augustus S. Macdonald, Mrs. Edward Lacy Brayton, Mrs. Philip E. B-wies and Mrs. John Power Hutchins. Other relatives are Mrs. Kenneth Moore, Mrs. Bernard Waterlow Ford, Mrs. John Jerome Alexander, Mrs. Hiram Johnson, Jr., Miss Elise Detrick, Phillip Bowles, George Bowles and Robert Bowles.

"Elsey Swift Train is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elsey McHenry Train of New York. He is a brother of Mrs. Edward Staffler, who was Miss Mary Train until her marriage a few months ago. Mr. and Mrs. Train have been residing in the Hawaiian islands during the greater portion of the last two years. The bridegroom lived here for some years before going to Honolulu, and has a host of friends in the bay cities."

ENLISTED MEN TO ENJOY HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Two hundred and fifty of our enlisted men are to enjoy a Halloween party this evening at the Outrigger club at Waikiki at 8 o'clock. The Outrigger club wishes it might entertain a thousand of our splendid fighting boys. Alas! the pavilion holds only about two hundred and fifty couples, so the impossible is not attempted. This is only the first, however, of the Outrigger's entertainments for the fighting men of the navy and army and the others will get their party another time.

The men of the Outrigger are aiding the women's auxiliary most generously in its plans, and are helping in every possible way. The use of the pavilion and lanai and the lights have been a gift of the men's club. The spirit of helpfulness is in the air and all are working toward a happy evening for the boys.

"Dude" Miller's orchestra has been engaged and splendid dancing music will help the dancers to trip the light fantastic toe.

Halloween stunts will add merriment on the smoking lanai, bringing memories to the boys of days at home when ducking for apples or looking in a mirror was such fun on Halloween night. The boys will also have their fortunes told by an old witch who will sit beside a boiling caldron and tell the same old story in the same old fascinating way. A dozen or more stunts will be characteristic of Halloween.

Games are to be another feature. Many of the boys who do not care to dance can enjoy a pleasant evening in this way. Fruit punch will be there in plenty and the Outrigger brew of the Women's Auxiliary is justly famous. The older women of the club will be there to lend their willingness. A perfect evening of pleasure awaits the invited guests.

The women of the Outrigger Auxiliary in charge of the affair and who have worked for the success of this party are as follows:

General committee—Board of directors of the Auxiliary.

Arrangements for Halloween party—Mrs. Francis Mills Swanzy.

Refreshments—Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Raymond C. Brown, Mrs. Gardner Wilkins and Mrs. William A. Wall.

Decorations—Mrs. Eben Low.

Halloween stunts—Mrs. Wilbur MacNeil, Mrs. Isaac Cox, Mrs. Barnard, Miss Jessie McKay, Miss Ann Johnson, Miss Jane Winne, Miss Paush, Miss Hawthorne, Miss Walshall, Miss H. Caldwell, Miss Holmes.

Fortune telling—Miss Breckenridge, Miss Folsom, Mrs. Davis, Miss Woodford and Miss Matthews.

Every member of the club is expected to be in attendance.

THE COMING OUTDOOR CIRCLE MEETING.

On Tuesday, November the thirteenth, will be the first meeting of the year for the Outdoor Circle. A large attendance of members is called, for Mrs. L. A. Thurston, the president, is away and Mrs. Isaac Cox, second vice-president, will preside, as Mrs. A. J. Campbell, the first vice-president, is also on the mainland.

The meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Frederick J. Lowrey, Lunailo and Victoria streets. Any woman who is not a member and who wishes to be one may do so by phoning Mrs. Augustus E. Murphy. Every woman in Honolulu who is interested in the moral and physical beauty of this city should be a member of the Outdoor Circle, for it has been the aim of this body of women to work and keep on working until Honolulu would stand as the most exquisitely beautiful and clean municipality in the United States. The work of the circle speaks for itself and "any one who runs may read." The handsome street trees tell their own story. It is an alive body of women and plans and work are huge enough to keep the members busy for the next twenty-five years, so that any woman who wishes to help in this fine work may do so. It is purely a working club. The only social event is the annual luncheon and at this time all thought of care is cast aside and a happy day enjoyed by the five hundred and fifty-five members.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL OF DEFENSE TO BE FORMED

Next Thursday afternoon Mrs. John M. Dowsett is calling the women of Honolulu to a meeting of which she has been made temporary chairman by the Woman's Council of National Defense of Washington. The choice of Mrs. Dowsett is a wise one for all realize that she is a woman of force, one who is fearless and does that which is the right thing to do. Mrs. Dowsett was at first loath to accept the chairmanship but on thinking it
