

COACH INMAN BUSY WITH WORKOUT

This afternoon the Outrigger club will again venture forth and get some real scrimmage against the Puns on Alexander field. About 10 days ago these two elevens met with the well seasoned Puns having the benefit of the doubt. Since then Coach Inman has left no stone unturned in order to condition his bunch of surfriders for their initial contest with the College of Hawaii this coming Saturday afternoon.

The Outrigger line has improved 100 per cent and will be able to withstand the most heavy drives that an opposing team can launch against them without crumpling. George McInerny, who has been on the disabled list for quite awhile, is back in the game again feeling as fit as a fiddle. During the past week there has been no injuries to any of the players and each man will be able to do his ut-places for world's champions to nest, Honolulu is pretty near the prize winner.

---

Yours,
READER.

most in Saturday's game without having some old injury bothering him.

Seventeen

There are at present 17 men turning out regularly every evening, and each one doing his best and eager for an opportunity to be selected as a first string man. The results of today's scrimmage will decide on who will be selected as regulars for the coming season.

The College-Outrigger game will be played on Alexander field at 2:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon, November 1. As the interscholastic games do not commence until 3:30, this will enable the fans to take in the Outrigger game and either the school game at Moiliili field or on the Kam field. It is expected that a record crowd will turn out to witness the Alexander field game, as the game will mark the first appearance of both the College of Hawaii and the Outrigger club on the gridiron this year. Although odds are against the College of Hawaii, they are nevertheless expected to hold their own against the heavy Outrigger club.