

SURFERS MAY PLAY NAVY ON SATURDAY

The Outrigger Canoe club football team is endeavoring to arrange a game for next Saturday with the Navy. No field has yet been chosen and the probabilities are that if played it will be a curtain-raiser to one of the Interscholastic league games.

The four big teams in town recently met and arranged a schedule. The Outrigger and Palamas have an exhibition game on November 21 and then the regular schedule will open on December 4.

On that date the Palamas will play the University of Hawaii. On Sunday, December 5, the Waikikis and Outriggers will come together. The Outriggers take on the University of Hawaii on December 11 and on Sunday, December 12, the Waikikis tackle Palamas.

The Waikikis and University of Hawaii meet on December 18 and the Outriggers and Palamas come together on December 19. This series will decide who will meet the University of Nevada on New Year's Day.
