

BACK HOME AGAIN

J. M. WATT

Son of John Watt of Honolulu. The young man returned today from the mainland having completed his studies at Cornell university. He became internationally famous last April when he broke the high hurdle world record by making the distance in :54.4. He went to Antwerp with the Olympic team but a strained tendon kept him out of the finals.