

STICKNEY WILL GET CHANCE ON SATURDAY

According to the dope from the beach, a number of Outrigger Canoe club players who got little chance to show their wares last Sunday, will secure an opportunity to display their class this Saturday in the game at Moiliili field between the Outriggers and the University of Hawaii.

One of these players is Joe Stickney, who was the star ground gainer for the surfers last year. He was used only in the last few minutes of play last Sunday, but several times tore gaps in the beachcombers' line. Stickney is a fast man and uses his head for other purposes than to merely hang a hat on.

Another man who will probably get a chance is young Bryant. He is slated for the job of quarterback, is the latest report.

The Dope

Dopesters who are given to close figuring have come to the conclusion that the reason the Outriggers lost last Sunday was because of the fact that the team had too many heavy men and not enough fast light men.

It is true that the team was over-balanced with weight. Bryant and Stickney in the Outrigger lineup would speed up the work of the outfit. Another good fast man who is a bear for getting under punts and for tackling is Jack Slade, who, though out of condition, played a grand game for the short time he was on the field.

A gridiron general like Dr. Paul Withington will readily see the faults of an overheavy lineup and the chances are that the Outriggers will be more evenly balanced for the game Saturday.
