

220 Event Promises Thrills At Two-Night Swimming Meet

Olympic Stars Will Put Out Their Best Line of Work In One of the Best Races Ever Seen In Any Body of Water

The big feature of the swimming meet to be held on Friday and Saturday evenings at the Y. M. C. A. will be the 220 event for men. The world's five premier swimmers for this distance will be entered in this event alone. They are Warren and Pua Kealoha, Bill Harris, George Kane and Ludy Langer. All of this quintet were Olympic contenders. In addition to this list of marvels two other famous performers in the water will compete, they being Sam Kahanamoku and Mineville of the Outrigger Club.

Another event that is a headliner in itself is the 100-yard backstroke for men. Warren Kealoha, the world's champion in this branch of swimming, will compete against a field composed of Stubby Kruger, former champion; George Kane and J. Harris and others, of like caliber.

In the 100-yard open competition Duke Kahanamoku and seven other competitors, all Olympic games participants, will be featured, offering the swimming fans the first opportunity to see the world's champion in sprint swimming in action, since his return from Antwerp.

Four Entries

Four service organizations are entered in the 220 event for Service swimmers. This event will undoubtedly decide the supremacy among service swimmers of the island.

In order to accommodate local speedsters of the water who would not feel up to competing with the Olympic men, a 100-yard event for local talent has been arranged that will offer the opportunity for the best of the home grown sprint swimmers to show their speed. This should provide a stirring contest.

The justly famous Pake relay, with which the swimming team made such a decided hit while touring on the mainland, will be staged each night. It is reported that this burlesque race, not yet shown here, has all efforts of Charlie Chaplin, Chester Conklin and Fatty Arbuckle combined backed off the boards.

Fifty-three individual entries representing nine organizations have been listed for the meet. Outrigger has booked 23, Hui Nalu—the club that first produced Duke Kahanamoku—has come to life after a long period of quietude and has entered 7; Palama has 5 entries; Healani 4; Hui Makani 4; Pearl Harbor Athletic Club 3; Luke Field Athletic Club 3; Fort De Russy Athletic Club 2; 17th Cavalry 1; Unattached 1.

Three teams are entered in the men's relay, they being the organizations for the Hui Nalu, Outrigger and Healani Club. Three teams are entered for the women's relay.

Hike Club To Be Entertained With Hadley's Odyssey

Today at noon the Trail and Mountain Club will have as the guest of honor at its weekly luncheon, Charles Hadley, who has recently returned from Nova Scotia. Hadley will discourse on episodes of his trip. The luncheon will be held at the Y. M. C. A.
