

DOPESTERS DECLARE SURFERS EASY MEAT

There are two brands of Gradole-dope being circulated about town this week on the forthcoming game Saturday between the University of Nevada and the Outrigger Canoe club.

One brand is that there will be nothing to it but Outrigger team and the other is that the Surfers will prove easy meat. The backers for the local team point out that the Outrigger line will be a stone-wall and that the Outrigger back-field will be fast and furious. The other dopesters declare Nevada did not half try last Saturday and reserved two men at least for the game New Year's Day.

The only point where the dopesters of both factions agree is that the game will be close. There is no argument on that score. If Nevada wins it will know that it has had to play its head off and the Outriggers know that they must do their very best to win. All of which means that the fans are going to get their money's worth and then some on Saturday afternoon.