

BOTH MANAGERS FEEL CONFIDENT OF TEAMS

Both managers of the teams, the Outrigger Canoe club and the University of Nevada, feel confident of victory tomorrow in the game at Alexander Field. Here is what they say:

By FRED BAILEY

Manager Outrigger Team

We'll be ready when the whistle blows to give the best that is in us for Hawaii. We know that we will be up against a strong combination when we face the Nevada team so we are not taking anything for granted. We figure our team is well balanced. We have speed in the backfield and weight on the line and we are raring to go.

All we have to say is that the Outrigger team will go over the top. Hawaii has always gone over the top and this game will be no exception.

By R. O. COURTWRIGHT

Coach of University of Nevada

Nevada's team is in better condition for the game tomorrow than it was for the game Christmas Day. We are prepared to play the game of our lives.

We do not underestimate the strength of the Outrigger team. We know it will be a hard game, but we did not come 2100 miles to fail. Every man on the team is confident of victory and so am I.
