A program of water sports, including outrigger canoe and surfboard races, will be staged at Waikiki beach Sunday afternoon starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Plans for the program were announced today by Maurice B. ("Lefty") Flynn, director of athletics at the Royal Hawaiian hotel, who is arranging for the water carnival.

There will be an outrigger canoe race, four canoes entered; there will be two heats and the finals. A surfboard race for the beach boys has also been arranged and there will be a tug-of-war, the contestants mounted on surfboards.

In addition, there will be another surfboard race with youngsters mounted on the boards, the boards to be towed by the beach boys.
