The Outrigger Club carnival scheduled for next Friday afternoon and evening is giving the women of the organization plenty of opportunity to display their taste in the arrangements of booths under the hautrees. A hundred coconut columns have been used to prop up the boughs and with the thousand colored electric lights that are to be installed the Outrigger grounds will present a fairyland appearance next Friday evening. The ladies have also taken over the supervision of the illuminated Venetian carnival of canoes, and will see that these are tastefully and beautifully decorated with lanterns of every description. There will be dances at both hotels and on the floor of the big new Outrigger lanai, there will also be a chowder, at dinner time and at midnight, also a vaudeville performance on the big stage built for the McRaes and their scenery from the Opera House.
