"Owing to the fact that the United States is at war there will be no expensive program outlined for the carnival this year," said George Angus, president of the Mid-Pacific carnival committee today. "We have decided to eliminate everything which would tend to be expensive, otherwise we would work against the best interests of the war program which is being carried out."

This statement was followed by the announcement that there would be no grand ball at the armory this year, no elaborate Japanese parade and no expenditures in bringing swimmers to Hawaii.

Those who wish to dance may have an opportunity to do so on Bishop street the evening of Washington's birthday. This is the tentative program as outlined by the committee. There has been a suggestion made that bleachers be erected along Bishop street for those who wish to watch the dancers.

Word has been received from the members of the Japanese committee that owing to war economy the various Japanese organizations decided that it would be for the best interests not to hold a Japanese parade this year. The Japanese will cooperate in other ways to make the carnival a success.

Owing to the inability of the committee to secure the naval slip for a swimming meet it was decided to hold a meet at Waikiki. This meet will bring out the local stars, and it is the present intention of the committee to erect bleachers along the beach, a nominal charge being asked for seats. Any money profits from the meet may possibly be given to the Red Cross if the suggestion of one of the members of the committee is carried out.

Mr. Angus said that he thought the swimmers of the city would support such a meet and remarked that "Dad" Center had assured him of the support of the Outrigger Club members. Should Norman Ross come to Hawaii in February interest in the meet would naturally be increased, according to Mr. Angus.

The carnival committee is confident that the military parade will be a big event this season, and word has been

KINDERGARTEN WOMEN TO WORK FOR PROHIBITION

At the twenty-third annual meeting of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association held in the Castle Kindergarten this morning the association went on record as doing all in their power to further immediate prohibition for Hawaii. The motion was made by Mrs. Theodore Richards and was passed unanimously.

Election of officers and reading of yearly reports featured the meeting. Thirty persons were present. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. F. M. Swanzy; first vice-president, Mrs. Theodore Richards; second vice-president, Mrs. W. F. Frear; third vice-president, Mrs. S. B. Dole; recording secretary, Mrs. Isaac M. Cox; financial secretary, Mrs. William Moore; treasurer kindergarten and playgrounds, Mrs. A. Rasch; treasurer Castle home, Mrs. Herbert Mist; auditor, James L. Cockburn.

Mrs. Swanzy read the report of the president, in which she commented on the development of the various playgrounds throughout the city.

The Beretania playground is used entirely by the smaller children, while the playground at Aala park is the only one in the city where the Creche idea, the French system where mothers may leave their children in the care of competent playground attendants, is carried out.

A special report was submitted by Mrs. Lovett dealing with the Mother Rice playground. The boys who attended the playground built furniture for the use of the girls. The average attendance at the Moiliili playground is 200 children daily.

Miss Frances Gould, who was in charge of the Castle home, Manoa, and who is on a four months' leave of absence, sent in her report. She described the work in connection with the elimination of physical defects in children.

Miss Alice Winter, head of the committee on child welfare, and who has worked under three juvenile court judges, read an interesting report dealing with the looking after of children who had been sent from the Castle home to some home of correction.

The committee on child welfare was first organized to look after children sent to homes, but now two paid officers do this work. Nevertheless the committee finds plenty of work among the various institutions.

How the teacher in charge of the Beretania playground, Miss Taylor, took care of 140 children for three hours each day, when there was no kindergarten or accommodations other than a large algaroba tree, was told in the report of Miss Frances Lawrence, superintendent of playgrounds and kindergarten. Miss Lawrence stated to their knowledge this was the only playground-kindergarten known. She gave an extensive resume of the activities among the playground children throughout the year.

Mrs. W. C. Hobdy gave a short talk on food conservation.

received that every organization in Hawaii will be represented. The Boy Scouts will be asked to help out in the various plans of the committee.
