

Mrs. F. M. Swanzy To Head Again Outrigger Auxiliary

Annual Meeting Shows Women's Organization Had Prosperous Twelve Months' Period

Mrs. Francis M. Swanzy will head the Women's Auxiliary of the Outrigger Canoe Club for another year, she having been reelected yesterday as president of the organization at the annual meeting held in the afternoon at the Library of Hawaii.

The other officers elected are: Mrs. Andrew Fuller, first vice-president; Mrs. Wilbur J. MacNeil, second vice-president; Mrs. W. A. Wall, secretary, and Mrs. Raymond C. Brown, treasurer.

These officers and Mrs. J. A. Gilman, Mrs. Eben Low, Miss Marie Ehrhorn, Mrs. Arthur G. Smith, Mrs. Alfred C. M. Rasch, Mrs. John F. Soper, and Miss Frances Lawrence constitute the board of directors of the auxiliary.

Reports Show Progress

The annual reports presented by the president, secretary and treasurer of the organization show that the auxiliary is in a very flourishing condition. It was decided to increase the membership maximum limit from 535 to 600, the auxiliary feeling that it can take care of the latter number of members now with the added facilities the beach-house has received. There are several hundred applications for membership on the waiting list and the thirty-five new members will be selected from these.

Interesting Talks Made

There were a number of interesting talks made by members at yesterday's meeting. Mrs. Arthur G. Smith spoke on food conservation and thrift stamps. Mrs. L. Fullard Leo, the A. A. U. delegate of the auxiliary, spoke on matters concerning swimming and aquatic meets, laying particular stress on the question of bathing suits.

Mrs. Arthur G. Smith was appointed chairman of the committee on bathing suits and will cooperate in this regard with Mrs. L. Fullard Leo, who has made an exhaustive study of the subject.

Considerable other routine business was transacted and several more interesting talks were made by members of the organization.
