

QUESTION RAISED AS TO CLUB COMPETITION

Sporting Editor, Star-Bulletin.

Sir: Please be kind enough to publish an answer to the following letter in the columns of the Star-Bulletin. These questions came during a recent conversation.

Is it sportsmanship and becoming a gentleman to be a member of two clubs, who compete against each other in two branches of athletics? For instance the person in question is a member of Club A and Club B. He visits A club almost every day and enjoys the privileges of this club, and then competes under the colors of Club B against Club A and its members. Your opinion in the above cited question will be very valuable.

Who is at present secretary of the Outrigger Canoe Club?

Who is manager and captain of the Pan-Pacific team?

Very truly yours,
ROBERT MAGNUS.

[Note—There are three or four members of the Pan-Pacific team, for instance, who are also members of the Outrigger Club. They have competed for the Pan-Pacific before it was known that the Outrigger Club would compete in track athletics, and these athletes could not compete for the Outrigger Club in the coming A. A. U. meet if they wanted to.

W. H. Soper is at present secretary of the Outrigger Club with Joe Stickney, assistant secretary. Joe Stickney is manager and captain of the Pan-Pacific team.]
