

Public Hearing On Bathing Suits?

How about a public hearing on the bathing suit question with live models wearing suits tabooed and suits approved by the Women's Auxiliary of the Outrigger Club?

The suggestion may yet be carried out by the board of supervisors. It comes partly from A. M. Cristy, deputy city and county attorney, whose idea is that if the bathing suit matter is brought before the board, a public hearing be called. The other part of the suggestion is from Eugene Buffandeau, clerk of the board of supervisors, who believes the supervisors, some of whom do not visit the beach, could judge the question better from an exhibition by mannequins of the tabooed and approved suits.

"Such a display would be sure to bring out a full attendance of the board and a large crowd of citizens," said Buffandeau.
