Kahanamoku, Lane and Kruger Hold Championships At Many Distances

Listed amongst the six greatest swimmers of the world are the names of Clarence Lane, Duke Kahanamoku, and Harold Kruger of Honolulu. Lane holds all speed records from 25 to 50 and from 50 to 100 yards. Duke is in possession of the 50 and 100 yard marks, and also every record from 100 to 200 yards.

"Stubby" Kruger, one of the greatest all-around swimmers of the world, holds every record for backstroke swimming. Kruger is also a great distance swimmer and a diver of no mean ability.

The other three on the list are Buddy Wallen and Perry McGillivary of Great Lakes, and Norman Ross of the Aviation Corps. Wallen is the champion distance swimmer, while McGillivary holds several records at various distances, but his specialty is the 220 yard swim, which he holds the world's record for.

Ross, like Kruger, is a great all-around swimmer and last year startled the swimming world by smashing a half dozen or more records in as many weeks. He is a member of the Olympic Club of San Francisco.
