

BASKETBALL AT ARMORY TONIGHT

Oahu-Service Athletic League Moves Its Games From Mo- iili Field Court

Lovers of indoor court basketball will have a chance to enjoy a double-header at the National Guard armory tonight, for the Oahu-Service Athletic League has changed its modus operandi, which in the very latest Latin means, "now ther're at it," and will stage the remainder of the circuit basketball fights at the armory instead of at the dirt court in Moiliili Field.

The fun begins promptly at 7:30 o'clock this evening, in the opening match the fans witnessing the College of Hawaii team trying to put it over the Coast Defense, which will be quite a large-sized contract for the collegians to undertake.

The second game of the evening will be between the Marines and the Outrigger Canoe Club, and here, too, the fans will see something worth-while, for the Waikikians will put up a terrible fight, even though the Sea Soldiers are the prime favorites these days.

Double-Header Tomorrow

There will also be a double-header tomorrow afternoon at the same place, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. In the opening battle the Signal Corps will meet the First Hawaiian of Fort Shafter, while in the closer of the afternoon the Department Hospital of Fort Shafter will fight it out with an All-Star aggregation. The second game will be an exhibition affair and will not count in the league club standing.

Quite unlikely as it may appear to be, the Outriggerites have hopes to put it over on the Marines this evening, and should they do so they will go to the head of the column with .800 percent, while in this event the Marines will drop to .750. All this remains to be seen.
