

Service Basketballers Wind Up Season

General John W. Heard has been asked to do the honors tonight at the armory and present the cup for the basketball championship to the Marines, winners of the title. It is expected that the honorary president of the Oahu-Service League will also make a presentation speech.

The presentation of the cup will follow an exhibition game between the champions and the runners-up. The Coast Defense team has been hankering for a battle with the Marines ever since that defeat early in the season and this will be their opportunity to show the world what they can do.

Captain Norman B. Jensen of the Marines will receive the cup at the presentation which will take place between the game and the dance that will follow. All members of the Oahu-Service Basketball team will be admitted free to both game and dance. The admission fee to others will be 50 cents to both affairs.

The dance promises to be one of the big social hits of the season. The Marine and Coast Artillery bands will be on hand to dispense the music for the occasion.

This will wind-up the Oahu-Service Basketball League season, the results of which are as follows:
