OARSMEN ON TOES FOR COMING SATURDAY REGATTA; HEALANI CREWS SHOW SPEED ON MONDAY WORKOUTS

With the coaches sharp and sarcas-. + + + + + tic, the trainers loud and brutal and the oarsmen short-tempered, the annual regatta is on the threhold. By these signs the approaching date may be known for the crews are on their toes in anticipation of the starting gun Saturday.

The Hilo crews are working out in the mornings while the Healanis and Myrtles are taking their tricks at night. It was pitch dark and torches had to be used to guide the Healani seniors into the boat house when they finished their practise spin yesterday.

Great Form

The junior and senior crews of the Healani club showed wonderful form vesterday. Nothing more could be desired than that easy, smooth, springy stroke of the Healani crew vesterday. It was a championship stroke and it opened the eyes of the rowing fans who thronged the wharves and boat sheds along the course.

The Myrtle crews also worked out Ast night to the satisfaction of Coach Bob Chillingworth, who is stepping on every man's pet foibles in order to whip the crews into shape.

It is a real treat to see Coach Chillingworth work his charms and he is getting the red and white boats into sublime condition despite all the apparent sharpness and sarcastic remarks that seem rife.
