

Record Crowd Expected to Witness Final Session of Fall Swimming Meet

Norman Ross, Illinois Athletic club, and Harold "Stubby" Kruger of St. Mary's Athletic club will concentrate their efforts toward breaking the world record for 220 yards. This effort will be made tonight in the third race of the card. The present record is held by P. McGillivray and was made here. The time is 2:24.1.

Tickets are selling like the proverbial hotcakes and a record-breaking crowd is expected tonight in the final session of the meet. Inasmuch as four Hawaiian records fell last night it is expected that more will be made tonight.

race. So the "head finish" method is used because it is easier to make out a bobbing head than a hand hidden under splashing water.

Cowells led this race easily and despite her illness she grinned sadly when informed of how close she had come to the record:

"If I had been a giraffe I would have broken Durack's record," she remarked.

Edith Kenn was second and Marion Dowsett third, having been fouled by Agnes Auld.

Another Kahanamoku

In the 50 yards service event, Granrose of the Coast Defense led for a good part of the distance but L. R. Canario of the 14th Submarine Division finally cut down the lead and won out coming within a fifth of a second of the record of :26.4 held for this distance by A. Pingry.

Sam Kahanamoku as anchor man for Troop 5, won the race for his organization in the Boy Scouts' relay. Sam hit up a pace that looked exactly like that of his famous brother, Duke. This relay race was one of the most interesting of the night. It was staged across the slip and was peppered with plenty of cheering.

In the 50 yards for boys under 15, James Hakuole of Palama took things easy and won by a margin of three yards. Sylvester Granrose won in jig fashion in the 440 yards service race and Frank Feldman, who came second had to go fast to beat out Stewart Miller.

Though the judges awarded second prize in the springboard diving to Jack Hjorth of the Outrigger the majority of the fans present seemed inclined to the belief that Virgil Saunders was an easy second if not a contender for first place against Robert K. Fuller, the winner.

With ten records broken to date in the first two nights of the fall swimming meet the fans are confident that more will follow tonight. Four Hawaiian records set last night came early in the evening.

In the initial event, 100 yards girls' novice, Mollie Akana of the Hui Makani traveled the distance in 1:20 upsetting the record of 1:21.1 held by Kathleen Law. Mollie did not get away to as good a start as the others but she caught up with the leaders in the first 20 yards and then at the 50 went in front and stayed in front.

The second Hawaiian record to go was the 100 yard for boys under 18 when Pua Kealoha shattered his own record of :57.2 by making the distance in :56.2. He has to thank A. E. Minvielle, Jr., of the Outrigger for this record. It was the Outrigger boy who forced himself to give everything to win.

Ruth Scudder of the Outrigger club, 13 years old, surprised everybody by winning the 50 yards for girls under 15 and setting a new Hawaiian record of :31.3. Agnes Auld of Palama and Mollie Akana of Hui Makani were right behind her all the way. The other Hawaiian record established was that by John Kua, Jr., in the 75 yards backstroke for novices at :54 flat.

The races were run off in fast time last night, the first getting under way at 8 o'clock and the last one finishing about 10 o'clock. While the crowd was not quite as large as that of the night before the stands were fairly well filled. Hopes are entertained by the committee that there will be a larger turnout tonight so that the meet can be a success financially as well as from the standpoint of records.
