One world record and four Hawaiian records were broken last night in the Y. M. C. A. tank at the opening session of the December swimming meet. A relay race between the women's club in which the Outrigger team was nosed out by the Palama team in the last few feet, proved the most thrilling event of the evening.

Norman Ross, Illinois Athletic club, and world champion middle distance swimmer, set a new world tank record for 200 yards, making it in 2:06.2. Duke P. Kahanamoku, Outrigger club, set a new Hawaiian tank record for the 100 yards by covering the distance in :55.4.

Outside of the fact that five records were established last night, the big feature of the evening was the girls' relay race. It was certainly the most exciting event, inasmuch as the Palama girls had won at the November meet in the harbor and the Outrigger girls had evened it up at Hilo. Last night's race was a rubber event.

Relay a Hummer

Ruth Scudder led off for the Outrigger club and Agnes Auld started the first 60 yards for Palama. Ruth was tired from her work in breaking a record in a previous race and swam a steady but slower stroke. Agnes finished ahead of her by a foot or two. Rose Robero led Harriette Carter for the first 20 yards but they were almost even on the last turn. The Palama girl finished but inches ahead of the Outrigger swimmer. Gerd Hiorth and Julia Kehia got away together. Though Gerd lost on the turns she finished two feet ahead of Julia, who slowed up and showed that she had not been practising lately. Then came the anchor swimmers. Agnes Auld got away three feet behind Josephine Hopkins but they were together on the first turn. The Auld girl led on the last turn by a foot and though the Outrigger girl fought hard and cut it down to inches the Palama midget retained a slight lead down the last stretch, slapping the finishing line first.

The special relay race of the evening proved a walkover for McKinley high school. Chung started and beat Simeton of the 14th Submarine Division by several yards. Sam Kahanamoku increased the lead over Feldman to 10 yards. Matsaguma finished a lap ahead of Canario and Minvielle beat Butzke by a lap and five yards.

Come-Back

The major event of the evening was the reappearance of Duke P. Kahanamoku. The crowded bleachers reechoed with the thundering applause that greeted the famous sprinter. Pua Kealoha of the Hui Makani and A. E. Minvielle of the Outrigger club raced with Duke. The three got away to a perfect start but only Pua and Duke made the initial turn together. Pua hung right beside the sprinter until they cleared the edge of the last 20 yards. Duke made a quick turn and when his head bobbed up he was a yard in the lead. He sprinted the last lap and then continued to the 100-meters mark. He did not appear to be tired at the end of the trip and swam over and shook hands with the other two contestants.

New Tank Records

Norman Ross, Illinois Athletic club, set a new world record for 200 yards. Time, 2:06.2, breaking own former record of 2:06.4.

Duke P. Kahanamoku, Outrigger club, set new Hawaiian record for 100 yards. Time, :55.4. Former record of :56 flat made by himself.

Warren Kealoha, Hui Makani, made a new Hawaiian record for 100 yards, backstroke open. Time, 1:11.3. Former record of 1:13.2 made by Harold Kruger.

Ruth Scudder, Outrigger club, made a new Hawaiian record for 50 yards, breaststroke for women. Time, :43.1. Former Hawaiian record was :45.4.

Helen Vernon, Outrigger club, set new Hawaiian record for 20 yards for girls under 12 years. Time, :12.1. Former record of :12.4 made by Salphino Sandal.

Ruth Scudder, 13-year-old Outrigger club star, who broke the Hawaiian record in the 50 yards breaststroke last night by covering the distance in :43.1, will endeavor to establish a world record for 50 yards backstroke tonight.

The speedy Outrigger girl star, who has come to the front so rapidly in the last few months, was a warm favorite with the fans last night and was given a great ovation for her work. While she would not say whether she felt confident of breaking the record tonight she declared that she would do her best.

World Record

The breaking of the world record by Norman Ross for the 200 yards brought down the house. His graceful stroke, long, easy and with little splash, riveted the attention of the spectators throughout the entire 220 yards. He started out fast, a little too fast to break the 220-yard record. However, he came within two-fifths of a second of the world time. There were three other swimmers and the resulting wavelets may have had something to do with Ross failing to notch a new mark on the 220 distance.

Gerd Hiorth was one of the surprises of the meet. For some time past Gerd has been at a standstill, but last night she demonstrated that she is a coming star. Not only did she win the applause of the house by her work in the relay, but she finished second in the 50 yards open for women. Agnes Auld won by a head and a little more practise on the turns will make Gerd one of the Outrigger's brilliant stars. Edith Kenn was a close third.

The 20 yards for girls was a good event. Two Outrigger swimmers, D. Mooney and H. Vernon, fought it out for first place, the latter winning it by a narrow margin. Salphino Sandal of the Palama club was a good third.

Exhibition Diving

Due to the fact that the springboard was broken in practise a few days ago, the men's diving events were called off and the three entrants, Bob Fuller of the Healanis, Virgil L. Saunders of Fort De Russy and Jack Hiorth of the Outrigger club gave some exhibition diving from an overhanging fire escape. Saunders' "De Russy Special" won the applause of the evening and made a direct hit. Some of the spectators were hit by the splash he sent up, but everybody took it in good nature.

The crowd showed itself tickled with the special for boys under seven years over 20 yards. K. Ueno and Ed Wise of Palama raced. Ueno was in the lead at 18 yards, when he turned into the side of the tank, thinking he had finished the distance. The applause was prolonged, to which the youngster replied with a neat bow.

In the century for service men, the veteran Fort Kamehameha star, Sylvester Granrose, won by a small margin. Canario of the 14th Submarine Division was second. He won out by inches from Feldman of the same division. Warren Kealoha set a new Hawaiian record in the century backstroke and incidentally led the rest of the field by three yards. It was the opening event of the evening.

SCRUBS BEATEN FOR ICE CREAM

Thompson's Boomers of McKinley school won the ice cream prize yesterday at Makiki field when they defeated the Wise Scrubs 6-0. It was a hard fought game and one full of interest clear through. They started out fast and swept the Scrubs off their feet in the first quarter when Gaspar made the only score. In the second quarter the Scrubs came back and the playing was more even. Once they had the ball on the 10-yard line, but were unable to carry it over. In the last half they were easily the superior team, menacing Thompson's goal time after time, but they lacked the punch to put it over.

Stars

Greig was the main star feature for the winners, and he handled the quarter position like a veteran. Gaspar also played a good game, while "Bear" Tong, Thompson and Woon, Sato and Haile proved to be good distance gainers in the backfield, while Adams and Davenport did much to stop line plunges. A number of pretty runs were made, probably the best being when Tokioka grabbed the ball from the Thompsonites and ran 40 yards. It would have resulted in a touchdown had not the little Japanese player tripped in trying to dodge one of the opposing players.

The Sophomores are now talking of challenging the rest of the school to a grid battle. The Sophies won the interclass title.

PRINTERS BLANK SUGAR BOWLERS

The Printers downed the Sugar Factors last night on the "Y" alleys to the tune of three games to nothing, the losing team being unable to come within striking distance even once in the match. The victors led by a 262 pin score at the end of the match. The bowling for the match for the whole was low, Chung for the Sugarites bowling the only score over the two century mark, chalking up 205. Ching also set up the high three game for the match at 567, Sing for the Printers rolling a three game score of 551.

Only one more match is left to play in the first Commercial league series, the Auto Factors and the Hawaiian Pineapples will roll this off on Friday night. The second series will begin on Monday, December 8. The detail of last night's games:
