

BIG MOOSE SET

UPSETS MARK SECOND SWIM MEET

DUKE BURNS UP SIXTY-YARD RACE

AGNES AULD STARS AMONG GIRLS

Finishing three and a half laps ahead of the second man, Norman Ross covered 440 yards last night in the Y. M. C. A. tank in the fastest time ever made over that distance. He clipped three and a fifth seconds from his own record and thus set up a new world mark. To all intents and purposes it was a world record, although some claim that it will not stand officially because it was made in a 60-foot tank instead of in a tank of 75 feet or more. Ross states that the claim is based on an absolute ruling and that his is a world's record.

New Tank Records

Norman Ross, Illinois Athletic set a new world record for 440 yards. Time, 5:05.3, breaking his own tank record of 5:08.4 made in the Illinois Athletic club tank. The new time is the fastest ever recorded for the distance but it is claimed that it will not stand as an official world record, due to the fact that it was made in a 60-foot tank instead of in a tank of 75 feet or more. The open water world record of 5:22 is held by Lady Langer. The world's record for a 75-foot tank is 5:14.3, made by Ross in Los Angeles.

Will W. Harris, Outrigger club, set a new Hawaiian plunge for distance record, making 60 feet in :35. Former record was 60 feet in :50 made by Dudley Pratt in 1916.

Agnes Auld, Palama, set a new Hawaiian tank record for the 100-yard women's open. Time, 1:14.4, breaking the former record of 1:17.3. This record was made after the swimmer had just concluded winning the 50-yard race for girls under 15.

Ross was given a great ovation when the time was announced although a number of non-paying guests who had sneaked in and climbed up on the fence, to see the performance hooted the Moose when he first appeared for the event. Following the record breaking swim George "Dad" Center, chairman of the committee in charge, rose and addressed the audience chiding those who had showed such poor sportsmanship as to hoot such a famous visitor. He pointed out that when the island boys go to the mainland they are well received and courteously treated and that Hawaii should do as well for "the gamest swimmer that ever came to these shores—Norman Ross."

Duke Fast

While the relay race was an easy victory for the Outrigger club, the crowd stayed to see it out for the anchor man of the winners was Duke P. Kahanamoku. The famous sprinter burned up the 60 yards in the fast time of :29.2 which is but a fifth of a second slower than the world record. The relay developed into a race between the Heialapi and Palama team. Duke finished a lap in the lead of the other two who swam neck and neck for second place. It went to Ah Kin Yee of Heialani.

Upsets marked the second night of the December swimming meet. There were five races in which surprises were recorded. Another feature in connection with this was the wonderful work of Agnes Auld of Palama. She was instrumental in causing a surprise when she nosed out Ruth Scudder of the Outrigger club in the 50 yards for girls under 15. In the next race on the program, while she had barely recovered from her victory in the previous event, she defeated Edith Kenn of Hui Makani in the century open for women and incidentally set a new island mark by going the distance in 1:14.4.

Surprises

Another surprise last night was the 50 yards men's open in which Ah Kin Yee won by a hair from the favorite of the event, Warren Kealoha of Hui Makani. It was so close that some of the crowd thought that Kealoha had triumphed. Three swimmers went the first lap together with Kealoha a little behind. Will Harris of the Outrigger was leading. On the turn Ah Kin Yee and Kealoha caught up and though Kealoha lost a little at the 30 yard mark he was almost even with the Chinese star when their heads bobbed up for the final spurt.

There was also an upset in the 50 yards service. Here Sylvester Granrose was the picked man but Simon-ton of the 14th Submarine Division beat him by a yard. Granrose barely won from Canario, who was third.

The first race of the evening was an upset race. It was a century breast-stroke and it looked like a victory for Pua Kealoh of Hui Makani. George C. Kane of the Heialani club finished first. There was some comment on the kick used by Kane, but nothing was done officially.

Youngsters Good

In the 50 yards backstroke for women, Ruth Scudder was expected to set a new record. She got away to a bad start and moreover almost ran into the side of the tank on several occasions with the result that Thelma Kenn of Hui Makani beat her out by inches. Edith Kenn was right behind the other two. The 20 yards for boys under 11 was a victory for Solomon Raymond. He won at the fall swimming meet in the same race. It was close and the crowd was tickled to see the diminutive merman splashing through the water in the approved star-like style.

The plunge for distance was a victory for Will W. Harris of the Outrigger club. He got away perfectly and came to the surface close to the 10 yard mark. His weight helped him and he moved slowly toward the end of the tank while the crowd yelled for him to "hold it." He did until his fingers touched the far ledge of the tank. His second attempt brought him within an inch of victory when he had to come up for air. Davenport was second with 46 feet four inches and O'Dowda of the Outrigger third with 45 feet four inches.

Exhibition

Due to the fact that the springboard had been broken in practise, the women's diving was called off and Virgil L. Saunders of Fort De Russy and Jack Hiorth of the Outrigger club gave a series of exhibition dives. Helen Martin, holder of the Pacific coast record for the 50 yard breast-stroke for women, swam 40 yards and received a round of applause.

Receipts from the two nights' meet were close to $500 but there is still a deficit and the plan is to stage a dance in the near future when cups and medals won at the fall swimming meet will be presented. Incidentally enough should be raised at the dance to strike off the deficit.

THE LETTER BOX

Sporting Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin. Sir: Indications point to a record crowd of over 5000 football spectators at the College of Hawaii-Town team match tomorrow afternoon at Moiliili field which begins at 3 o'clock sharp.

With such a crowd on hand rough words and ungentlemanly talk will undoubtedly be heard, either on the sidelines or in the bleachers. In order that the game be played without being marred by such remarks on the part of some fans—fans of this nature have been noticed in previous games at Moiliili field and other fields—the park management should take great care to keep the crowd away from the side lines. Heretofore fans by the hundreds have been permitted to roam about the side lines, thus causing much confusion to those who sit on the lower section of the bleachers. The fan's place should be in the bleachers or in the grandstand. And remember that there will be ladies at the game. Rough stuff should not belong at athletic contests. Be a gentleman.

Yours truly,

S. K. HUNG.
