

OUTRIGGER PREXEY MAKES REPORT

CLUB IS MAKING GREAT PROGRESS

Warren Dease, president of the Outrigger Canoe club who was re-elected to his chair at last night's meeting of the members, gave in his report of the past year's activities the details of progress made. Here is his report:

Report

Gentlemen:

Another very successful year in many respects has just come to a close.

I might first mention the finances of the club which are in quite a satisfactory condition. Exclusive of capital expenditures, we cleared about $3000.

Five hundred dollars has been added to the sinking fund.

A new bath house was erected which with wooden lockers cost about $2300. We also purchased, as an experiment, 100 steel lockers at a cost of nearly $1000.

The cost of running the club has greatly advanced along with the times. One item alone was the increase in assessment valuation of the premises from $2000 to $2500.

To partly offset the increased expense it was decided to slightly increase the charge for lady guest privileges. The initiation fee and membership dues have, so far, not been touched.

Three on Team

Perhaps the greatest advance in the club's activities was along the athletic lines. The swimming team is too well known to need any reference from me, but in case there is anyone who does not already know, I would mention, that three of the members of that team are on their way to Antwerp included in the All-American team.

The track and field team also did splendid work, capturing first place in the last A. A. U. meet.

Then there were volleyball, basketball and collegiate football teams, all of which were a credit to the club, not particularly from a winning point of view, but from what is much more important — sportsmanship.

The club dances given by our order and entertainment committee were just as big a success as ever and we shall always look forward to them.

During the year we had as guests many distinguished visitors, including Hon. Josephus Daniels and party, Admiral Jellicoe and officers of H. M. S. New Zealand, Rear Admiral Wiley and officers of U. S. Pacific fleet of destroyers, Admiral Hilary P. Jones and officers and midshipmen of battleship squadron of U. S. Atlantic fleet, Sir Arthur du Cros of S. Y. Emerald and many others.

The directors meetings have been well attended and the same harmonious spirit that characterized the previous year, again existed.

Absence of "Dad"

It might not be out of place to mention a big breach in the personnel of the directorate and membership of the club in the absence of our captain, Mr. G. D. Center, who left about two months ago as manager of the Hawaiian swimming team. (Incidentally, every one of this team were placed on the All-American team.)

I am sure Captain Center has the best wishes of every member of the club.

I wish to thank the officers, directors and members for their hearty cooperation during the past year.

WARREN DEASE,
President.
