

OLYMPIC VICTORS ROYALLY RECEIVED

King and then to the Young hotel.
Many Receptions Planned

At the Young, another crowd congregated and, following the announcement by Raymond C. Brown that all the swimmers were expected at the chamber of commerce luncheon at noon, the stars were taken to their respective homes and the arms of their families.

In the next few weeks, the swimmers will be guests at many receptions. Friday night they will stop a short time at the Hawaiian Civic club entertainment on the Young Hotel roof garden, going later to the Outrigger club where there will be a dance as well as a reception. A week from Saturday there will be a dance at Palama settlement and between times there will be many private receptions and dances. All athletic bodies have been invited to the Outrigger reception.

Every member of the team is in good health. Center reported himself as having gained several pounds despite the worries of the journey to Antwerp and back. Pua Kealoha gained 10 pounds and even Ludy Langer, who suffered from illness overseas, is in good health. The remainder reported themselves as fit for a swimming meet at once.

Helen Moses was so anxious to go out to Waikiki for a swim that she had her bathing suit in the pocket of her coat, and this morning, when the ship rounded Diamond Head, expressed her sorrow because the surf was not as big as she expected.

All the members of the team wore their special jackets with the American flag over the heart, and "Dad" Center wore a cap with the insignia on the peak.
