

The personality of George "Dad" Center, manager of the Hawaiian swimming team and coach of the American swimming team, was emphasized by an incident at the Outrigger club on the day of his return. Since Center left the nightly volleyball games on the sand court have been neglected but the first night that he came back the game was going strong once more with big turnouts.

---