

GOOD GAMES COMING FOR THIS WEEK-END

More high class football is in store for local gridiron fans for Saturday and Sunday at Moiliili field.

On Saturday the University of Hawaii will play the Outrigger Canoe club. On Sunday the Palamas will take on the Waikikis. Both games will commence at 3 o'clock.

Despite the fact that the Outriggers lost to the Waikikis last Sunday there should be no falling off in interest on the part of the fans. The pre-game dope is that the surface will defeat the University of Hawaii. If the varsity plays a punting game like that played by the Waikikis there may be an upset in the dope sheets again.

The Sunday game should also be a rattling good one. The Waikikis are brimming with confidence and that is just what has beaten many good teams. The Palamas, on the other hand, will be in there fighting every minute to keep in the running.
