

VISITING GRID TEAM DELIGHTED BY BEACH

The University of Nevada football team spent most of its time out at Waikiki beach yesterday afternoon. The visiting griddists were delighted with the idea of mid-winter bathing and nothing could lure them away from the sands all afternoon.

The automobiles took the party out to the Outrigger Canoe club for luncheon yesterday after a short spin about the city and later many went up and saw the Pali. Others took a look at Alexander field where the Christmas and New Year's games will be played.

Then it was the beach for all of them. The afternoon was spent out there. Some went in swimming and a number were taen out for canoe surfing. The south wind yesterday spoiled the surf but the visitors like the canoe surfing anyway.

The University of Hawaii girls are to entertain the visitors tonight at a little reception.
