

ALL READY FOR SURFBOARD RACES NEW YEARS MORNING

Everything is in readiness for the surfboard races to be staged at Waikiki beach tomorrow, according to officials in charge of the affair.

Arrangements have been made to stage seven races, participants being of various ages and from different organizations. The races are being staged as the first attempt to revive the old custom of staging annual surfboard races. Those who will take part in the events have been training faithfully and hot competition is expected.

The public is invited to attend the affair. The best place to watch the races is the Outrigger Canoe Club pavilion as the finishing line is close to shore opposite the club. The first race will start promptly at 9:30 a. m.
