

ROWING

affording the fans a clear view of the whole event. Saturday, they were looking into the sun. Another suggestion was to have the various boats towed to the starting line instead of the oarsmen rowing out to this point. Still another suggestion was to stage the program in the morning.

The committee which did the heavy duty Saturday announced that any constructive criticism will be gladly received to make future water carnivals the real big thing of the year.

One of the big thrills of the day Whirlwind outboard motorboat. was furnished by Percy Gray in his Turning at the Diamond Head end of the course after the third mile in the finals, Gray was thrown from his boat. However, the marshal boat was right on the job and picked up the racer, who was uninjured. Joe Santos, leading this race in his Terraplane, jumped clear of the water and then was flooded, putting him out of the race. William (Sonny) Kaeo went on to victory.

The program opened with the yachts from Pearl Harbor finishing. Earl Thacker, in his "S" boat, was first to cross the line. Ted Cook's yacht was awarded first place in the P-C class and "Puck" Dowsett tacked across the line first in the Star class competition.
